

Make LPFM available in San Diego (and around the country)! Me and my friends are concerned about the state of radio here in southern California (you know, with ClearChannel owning half the market). We need LPFM so that we can have a local voice in our community.